

James Burrell

Builders Merchants

We are looking to recruit the following personnel:

INTERNAL SALES PERSON:

Location: York

Salary: Depending on experience

THE ROLE: As an Internal Sales person you will be working as part of an already successful team managing a portfolio of customer accounts, including regional contractors and general builders. You will be developing relationships with existing customers assisting with their orders and making suggestions based on current offers and their requirements as well as targeting new business and customers in the York area.

CANDIDATE: We are seeking a salesperson with good product knowledge on a range of building materials. The candidate must be professional, customer orientated and have the ability to make commercial decisions. An ideal background would be a salesperson with recent builders merchant experience, and who has existing relationships with local/regional builders.

THE COMPANY: James Burrell Ltd is an independent builders merchant which was established in 1877. We have eight branches servicing our trading area of Northumberland down to South Yorkshire. We are a leading distributor of building materials, civils products, insulation and timber.

As an independent builders merchants we are a family run company with a culture which is friendly and team orientated. You would be joining a team where the majority of people have a number of years service, many of who have joined at more junior positions and have developed a long term career with us.

We offer a generous remuneration package for the right candidate including 27 days holiday p.a. The working week will be Monday to Friday.

Applications will be treated with the strictest of confidence; please forward your covering letter and CV to HR Manager, James Burrell Ltd, Deptford Road, Gateshead, NE8 2BR or email personnel@jamesburrell.com.

Closing date for all applications: 15th September 2017
